Holiday Safety

If you're taking a road trip this holiday to go and visit loved ones, here are a few tips to make sure your road trip is safe and efficient. Make sure you're aware and awake while driving and keep an eye out for seemingly distracted drivers. If you plan on having your teen driver take over part of the driving, take extra precaution in reminding them to stay aware. Above all please stay off the phone and do not text and drive. Make sure everyone is buckled, if you get pulled over and you or your family are not buckled, then you will receive a ticket. Make sure you check your child's car seat; double check that the seat is installed correctly and not in disrepair. In addition, make sure your child has not out grown their current seat. If they have, we recommend you purchase a new one. Make sure you have an exit strategy on the road, meaning plan rest stops along the way to use the bathroom, eat, and just stretch your legs. We recommend you at least take a break from driving every two hours at a minimum. With these tips you can ensure that your road trip is relaxing and safe.
