FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR PROCURING MINOR FOR PROSTITUTION

TEMPLE TERRACE, FL. – (4/2/13) – On March 31, 2013 at approximately 11:46 p.m. the Temple Terrace Police Department responded to the Ramada Inn, 11714 Morris Bridge Road, to investigate a report of an attempted robbery. The initial investigation revealed that no robbery had taken place; however, officers discovered information that led them to believe crimes of prostitution have been occurring at the location. Additionally, further investigation revealed that a female child, under the age of 18, was procured for the purpose of prostitution and was present at the location when police arrived.

Detectives were called to the scene to help identify and locate a black female suspect who fled the area prior to the officers' arrival. The suspect in this case has been identified as Alysia Nicole Algere, 26, of Tampa.

On Monday, 4/01/2013, Temple Terrace police detectives obtained an arrest warrant for Algere, charging her with procuring a person under 18 for the purpose of prostitution, deriving support from the proceeds of prostitution, and renting a space to be used for prostitution. Algere was subsequently arrested at her home, 923 Lotus Ave., Apt. A, in Tampa.

Police detectives are interested in speaking with anyone who may have information related to this activity. To speak to a detective regarding these or similar crimes, please contact the Temple Terrace Police Department at (813) 989-7110.
